Details-

Date of event: Wednesday, 16th February, 2022

Mode of event: Online (MS Teams)

Time: 2:00 p.m.

Purpose of the event: To introduce the new batch of MBBS 2021 to the Organ donation awareness society of UCMS and its significance.

Flow of the event-

The event commenced at 2:00 p.m. with a short address to the students of Batch 2021, delivered by Maanya Mehra. She welcomed the MBBS 2021 batch and congratulated them on joining the University College of Medical Sciences, Delhi. She introduced them to the Organum Donum society and organ donation, the myths and challenges associated with it along with some statistical data.

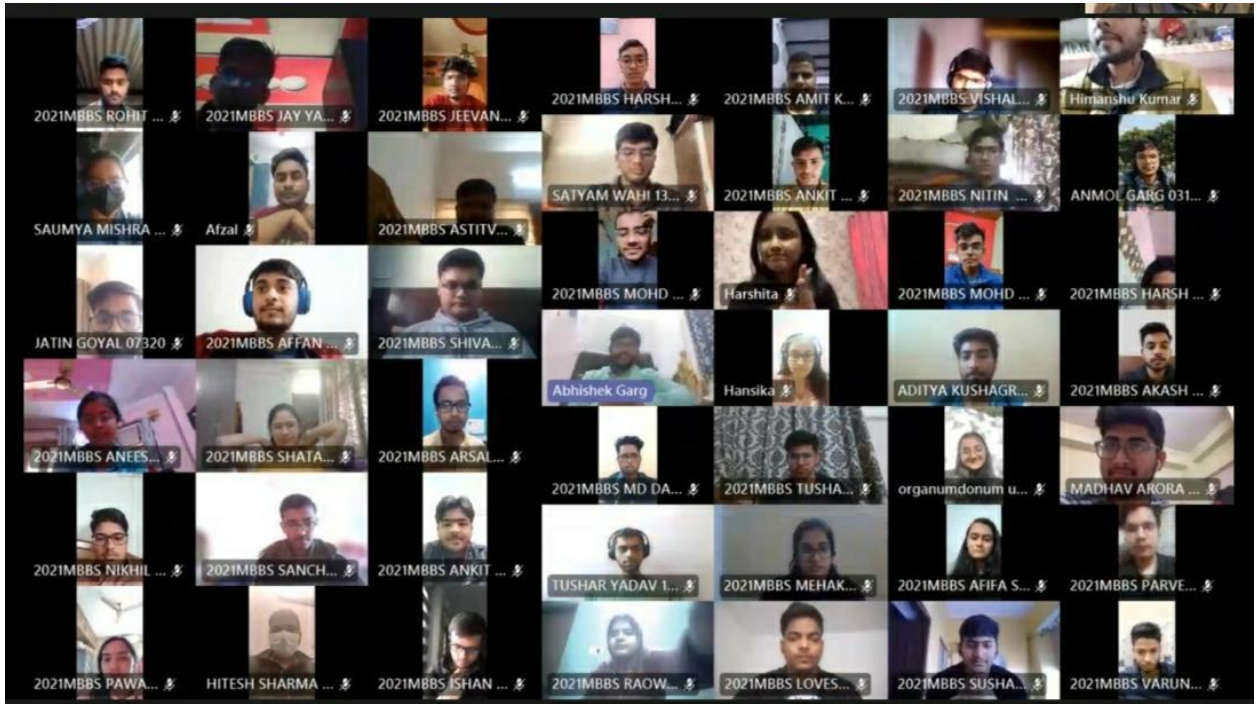

Following this, Saumya Mishra told the students about what should be their expectations from the society and Tushar Yadav and showing them glimpses of the various events: quizzes, debates, blood donation camps that have been conducted by the society over the years.

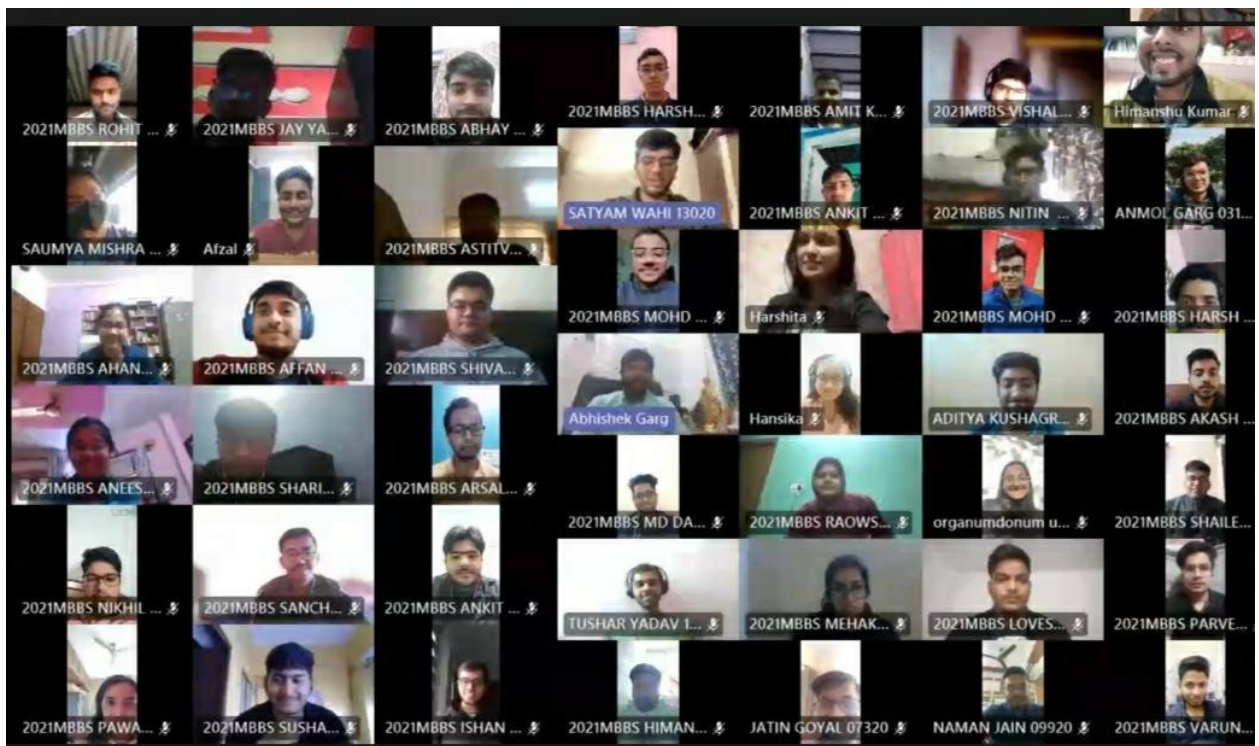

Satyam Wahani shared his learnings and his personal thoughts on why one should join the society. Towards the end, Aman Alam shared his personal experiences in the society and answered some of the concerns raised by the juniors.

To conclude the event, Dr. Abhishek Garg, Founder, Organum Donum provided the students with an insight on the true purpose of the existence of the Organum Donum society, and how it is not bound to just one college and the motto of "Service before Self". With this, we requested the members to join a WhatsApp group at their free will, wherein they'd further be introduced to the various other aspects of the society in the coming days. The session wrapped up by 2:30 p.m.
